mLINQS Awarded GSA TDRS Schedule for Employee Relocation

FAIRFAX, VA – (February 4, 2008) – mLINQS™, LLC today announced that the General Services Administration (GSA) has awarded the company a Transportation, Delivery and Relocation Solutions (TDRS) contract for the company's relocation expense management system, moveLINQ™. This contract helps to simplify the process by which federal agencies can acquire the software and ensures cost-effective implementation.

“Federal employees in over 30 civilian agencies use moveLINQ to manage their relocation-related expenses, making mLINQS the premier solution provider in the marketplace,” said Greg McIntyre, mLINQS President. “Our TDRS award is an important step forward for our company because as a small business, it underscores the quality of our product and ability to perform against larger competitors. The fact that we've developed the only end-to-end relocation system designed from the ground up solely for government is a credit to our staff, and gives us a unique value proposition.”

mLINQS is a Service-Disabled, Veteran-Owned Small Business. The company's award winning moveLINQ relocation system was introduced in 2004, just one year after the company was founded. It provides federal agencies, both civilian and the Department of Defense, with a fully functional, Web-native solution to manage all expenses and reimbursements related to employee relocation on a secure, scalable platform in full compliance with regulations.

TDRS is used by government employees and federal relocation experts to help simplify moves to new duty stations. Also known as Schedule 48, TDRS includes a section for Relocation Software, Technology Tools and Services (SIN 653-3) that provides a list of vendors approved by GSA to provide the technology and support services that streamline such functions as authorization, planning, expense management, and integrations with existing financial systems. moveLINQ is the only system available on Schedule 48 to offer end-to-end relocation expense management as defined by GSA.

The TDRS award gives federal agencies a third contact vehicle for purchasing mLINQS products and services, the other two options being the GSA Travel Services Solution (TSS) and GSA Mission Oriented Business Integrated Services (MOBIS).
